

Boat Race

Today we looked at a variety of boats, their uses and materials and identified how they have changed over time. We then carefully followed video instructions to make our own paper boats and made predictions about what might happen when they go on water. We then had a boat race using straws to test out our paper boats. We learnt that the shape of a boat is important and that paper is not a very good boat material!

