

Fun in the Forest!

Living Books!

As it is world book day this week, we were challenged to think of our favourite book and recreate the front cover or a specific part of the book using natural resources.

Five Senses Winter Walk!

In geography, we have been thinking about seasonal weather patterns and in science we have been thinking about the seven life processes, one of them being sensitivity. We continued our learning outdoors, using our five senses to explore the woods in the winter.

Blindfolded Walk!

In PE, we have been working on our communication skills when playing games. Today we worked in pairs to test those skills. One partner was blindfolded while the other guided them from one area of the woods to another.

More Forest Fun!

We also had lots of fun making mud cakes in the mud kitchen, playthe playhouse, building landmarks and playing the memory game.
