

The Great Egg Race!

Today, we wrapped hard-boiled eggs in different materials and had an egg race down our grassy bank. We timed how long it took for the wrapped eggs to reach the bottom. The winners were the eggs wrapped in paper towel, followed closely by the eggs wrapped in fabric. We learned that the thicker, bumpy materials such as cotton wool and bubble wrap slowed the eggs down.

